

Toddler Parents Newsletter,

Hope all of you had a nice holiday. Welcome back to a new year!!!

With winter here, this can mean plenty of outdoor playtime for the little ones to explore snow for the very first time or rediscover it all over again in a variety of different ways. Toddlers will love to run in the snow, be pulled around in sled's and build a snowman.

This month we will be talking about snow fun, we will learn about what animal's love to be in the snow such as penguins/polar bears and what animals like to sleep during the cold weather like bears.

We will also be doing a lesson on Rubber Duckie's birthday which is January 13th.

Please refer to my weekly lessons plans for more information of what we are doing daily in the room.

REMINDER: Brrrrr....It's cold out, winter has arrived. Please dress your child appropriately for outdoor playtime.

If you have any questions, please feel free to ask.

Ms. Heather
