

March

Lucky Charms are OFFENSIVE to the Irish people!!! ...
Just kidding we're not offended by anything lol.

Ah March, where winter SHOULD be packing its bags and going home and Spring finally shows her pretty face! I love March. Mainly due to my favorite holiday, St. Patrick's Day! I have some pretty cool projects for preschool 4. Like marble painting Irish Flags and decorating Shamrocks and making Cat in the Hat hats! ... Yeah that last one came out of left field but also in March is Dr. Seuss' birthday and I like to take the whole month to celebrate the Man. With it being a Dr. Seuss celebration I like to bring my favorite Seuss books. I highly encourage your children to bring their favorite books too! And if I have time I will choose some of their books to read during story time. And one last thing about our Seuss month, MLC is having a sprite week during 3/5-3/9. Monday, is One Fish Two Fish wear Red and Blue, Tuesday is Cat in the Hat wear stripes and/or your favorite hat, Wednesday is Wacky Wednesday wear your clothes wacky, Thursday is Green Eggs and Ham wear something green, Friday is Lorax teachers will be painting on mustaches.

Now with the new month comes new sight words. During March we will be focusing on big, on, go, so, do, say, get, out, went, soon, jump, and have. Even with all the special days and projects we still have a long road to being kindergarten ready. We still have plenty of letter of the week to though like H, K, X and much more. I've seen some awesome improvements in this class and I plan on staying the course and I believe by June we will more then ready to move these kids on. Keep working with your kids at home and I'll keep up on my end.
